ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This issue of OSEEN is the last for this academic year and it brings to a conclusion what we hope has been a highly successful year for the Ohio Slavic Community. The success of OSEEN is most graphically revealed in the more than 300 items which have appeared in its pages over the past year. We may be assured that Slavic studies are not only alive and well, but growing and developing in Ohio.

Thanks are due to all who supported OSEEN by communicating newsworthy and timely items of information for publication. The staff of the Center for Slavic and East European Studies has been particularly helpful. Gerard Ervin compiled and edited the Secondary School items, and Thea Irwin and Ruby Slagle dutifully handled all the diverse business aspects of OSEEN together with all the typing. We owe them all special thanks for their efforts. It goes without saying that OSEEN would not be possible without the continued support of Leon Twarog and the Center for Slavic and East European Studies of The Ohio State University.

While OSEEN will not be published over the summer, we intend to keep an active file of information about forthcoming activities and programs for the next academic year. Items may be submitted throughout the summer for publication in our first big "double issue" of the 1976-77 academic year-September 17, 1976.
